

BUILDING SOFTWARE SYSTEMS THAT WORK FOR YOU

Web Application Developer

At Your Side is a software company that has developed web and office applications for multiple clients in the academic branch. At Your Side uses SCRUM - an agile project management protocol - to increase productivity as well as job satisfaction. You will develop web applications in a small team, using short programming periods, divided by interim review meetings. In the first year you will have to be flexible towards workplace location, which will be partly in Murtosa (Aveiro area), partly in Vila Real and partly at home. It may even include a short stay in the Netherlands. After one year, the workplace location will most likely be Murtosa.

Desired Qualification:

- Proficiency in English, which will be the main communicating language
- A clear idea on what motivates you
- At least a basic understanding of Web Application Architecture and User interface design, including:
 - * HTML5/CSS
 - * Javascript, JQuery, Ajax
 - * PHP and/or ASP/VBA
 - * Database optimisation
- Preferably also acquainted with MS Access application development

Salary will be in accordance with academic graduate level. There is a possibility to work part-time as well.
